

The Claude Prompt Masterclass

Bad

vs.

Good

vs.

Great

Claude Prompts

See what separates a mediocre prompt from one that delivers outstanding results.

Example 1: Linkedin Post

Bad Prompt

Write a Linkedin Post for me

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

Zero context, Claude has no idea about your industry. audience, tone or goal.

Good Prompt

Write a linkedin post about how AI is changing the hiring process. Make it professional and around 200 words.

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

Clear task + tone + length. but lacks your POV, audience and desired outcome

Great Prompt

Write a LinkedIn post from the POV of a 10-year HR veteran who just saw a resume screened by AI in seconds. Use a hook that challenges convention, 3 punchy insights, end with a question to drive comments. Audience: mid-level HR managers. Voice: candid, slightly contrarian. 180-220 words."

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

Role, structure, audience, voice goal + length. Claude has everything to nail it

PROMPT BREAKDOWN

Role/POV	10-yr HR veteran
Hook	Challenges convention
Structure	Hook → 3 insights → CTA question
Audience	Mid-level HR managers
Voice	Candid, contrarian
Length	180-220 words

Example 2: Business Idea Validation

Bad Prompt

Is my business idea good?

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

No idea described, No framework, No Context, imposible to answer

Good Prompt

I want to build an app that helps freelances track invoices. Is this a good idea? What are the risks?

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

Idea is described. But now market context, stage or validation framework given.

Great Prompt

Validate using the Mom test framework: a notion CRM for solo B2B consultants at $2k+/mo. I'm pre-revenue, technical, with 5 LinkedIn connection in this niche. Give me: pain score(1-10), 3 riskiest assumptions, 3 validation experiments in 2 weeks, 2 competing alternatives

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

Named framework + specific context + stage + structured output = investor-grade validation

PROMPT BREAKDOWN

Framework	Mom Test methodology
Idea	Notion CRM for B2B consultants
Stage	Pre-revenue
Context	Technical founder, 5 warm leads
Output	Pain score, assumptions, experiments, comps

Example 3: Marketing Strategy

Bad Prompt

Give me a marketing strategy.

Sonnet 4.6

No product, no audience, no budget, no goal. Output will be generic fluff.

Good Prompt

Create a marketing strategy for my SaaS targeting small businesses. Focus on social media and content marketing.

Sonnet 4.6

Product + channels defined. Missing ICP, budget, stage, and success metrics.

Great Prompt

Build a 90-day GTM plan for a B2B SaaS (agency PM tool, $99/mo). Budget: $0 organic only. ICP: 2–10 person creative agencies. Goal: 50 free trial signups. Include: week-by-week content calendar, top 3 channels with rationale, 1 viral hook strategy, KPIs per channel.

Sonnet 4.6

Budget + ICP + measurable goal + output format = a real strategy Claude can build.

PROMPT BREAKDOWN

Product+price	Agency PM SaaS, $99/mo
Budget	$0 — organic only
ICP	2–10 person creative agencies
Goal	50 free trial signups in 90 days
Output	Calendar, channels, hook, KPIs

Example 4: Lead Generation

Bad Prompt

Help me generate leads.

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

No product, no target, no channel. Like asking GPS for directions with no destination.

Good Prompt

Give me 5 ways to generate leads for my consulting business on LinkedIn.

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

Channel + business + count. Missing ICP, offer, and conversion goal.

Great Prompt

I'm a solo fractional CFO targeting bootstrapped SaaS founders at $500k-$2M ARR. Write a 5-touch LinkedIn DM sequence icebreaker based on their content, problem-agitation for their stage, soft CTA for 15-min call, follow-up for non-responders. Tone: peer-to-peer, no buzzwords.

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

Hyper-specific ICP + offer clarity + sequence structure + tone = a sequence that converts.

PROMPT BREAKDOWN

Persona	Fractional CFO, solo
ICP	Bootstrapped SaaS $500k-$2M ARR
Channel	LinkedIn DM
Sequence	5-touch: icebreaker, agitation, CTA, follow-up
Tone	Peer-to-peer, no buzzwords

Example 5: Competitor Analysis

Bad Prompt

Analyze my competitors

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

No industry, no competitors named, no framework, no goal. Completely open-ended.

Good Prompt

Compare Notion and Coda as project management tools. What are the pros and cons of each?

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

Named competitors + category. Missing your product, positioning, and strategic framing

Great Prompt

I'm building a lightweight PM tool for solo freelancers. Teardown Notion, Coda, Basecamp: pricing model, top 3 UX complaints from G2/Trustpilot, messaging angle, and the gap they're NOT solving for solopreneurs. Output: comparison table + whitespace opportunity section for my pitch deck.

+

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

↑

Your context + named comps + data framing + output format = pitch-ready competitive intel.

PROMPT BREAKDOWN

My product	Lightweight PM for solo freelancers
Competitors	Notion, Coda, Basecamp
Data	G2 / Trustpilot reviews
Depth	Pricing, UX pain, messaging, gaps
Output	Table + whitespace section for pitch deck

Example 7: SaaS Idea Generation

Bad Prompt

Give me SaaS ideas

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

No niche, no founder context, no constraints. You'll get a useless braindump.

Good Prompt

Give me 10 SaaS ideas in the HR tech space that could be built by a solo developer.

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

Niche + builder + count. Missing your skills, pricing model, and validation lens.

Great Prompt

Full-stack dev (React + Node), 3yr B2B SaaS. Generate 5 micro-SaaS ideas for underserved ops roles (RevOps, DevOps, FinOps) at Series A startups. Each must: solve >2hrs/week pain, buildable solo in <3mo, support $49–$149/mo pricing, have an unfair distribution angle. Score each: market size, build difficulty, distribution clarity (1–10).

Sonnet 4.6 ▾

Skills + ICP + build constraints + scoring = ideas you can actually execute tomorrow.

PROMPT BREAKDOWN

Skills	React + Node, 3yr B2B SaaS
ICP	Ops roles at Series A startups
Constraints	Solo build <3mo, $49–$149/mo
Pain bar	>2hrs/week workflow pain
Moat	Unfair distribution channel
Scoring	Market, difficulty, distribution (1–10)

THE 3 RULES OF GREAT PROMPTS

Prompt like a pro.

- 01 — Context beats clarity every time
- 02 — Define the output format upfront
- 03 — Give Claude a role + goal, not just a task

Save this. Share it. Prompt Better